

HEROIC PRIEST SAID HE FELT END NEAR

Letter From First U. S. Catholic Chaplain Killed in War Comforts Mother.

CAPTAIN BAKER IS DEAD

'Wounded, Don't Worry,' Message Sent by Capt. Harrigan, Former Actor.

Under orders to go to the danger zone and with the roar of cannon in his ears Chaplain Edward J. Wallace, former assistant post chaplain at Fort Hamilton, had a premonition of death and wrote a letter to his mother, Mrs. Mary Wallace, which he mailed to the Rev. John Long with instructions to deliver it to her should he be killed. "I am under orders to go to the danger zone and I want you to know that my thoughts and feelings are of you and that I have no fear of death," he said in the letter, "I am under orders to go to the danger zone and I want you to know that my thoughts and feelings are of you and that I have no fear of death..."

Poisoned Gas Killed Priest. Chaplain Wallace died of gas, which he inhaled while ministering to the American wounded on the battlefield. He was the first American Catholic chaplain to be killed in France. His rank was that of first lieutenant. Chaplain Wallace was the first priest of the Brooklyn diocese to receive his commission. Before entering the service he was assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church at Fort Hamilton. He was born at Haydensville, Mass., on April 11, 1885. He was ordained for the priesthood at St. John's College, Brooklyn, June 1, 1912. He was pastor of St. Patrick's Church at Fort Hamilton, where, acting as chaplain at Fort Hamilton, he saw the great need of Catholic chaplains in the army and navy.

Capt. Charles D. Baker, Company E, 16th Infantry, who held a commission in the Sixty-ninth Regiment even before he became the first American Catholic chaplain to be killed in France, was twice honored for gallantry. He was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for gallantry while serving in the New York State Guard. He was also commended by the United States Navy Department for personal bravery on the transport in the voyage across the Atlantic. He was decorated with the Croix de Guerre for gallantry while serving in the New York State Guard. He was also commended by the United States Navy Department for personal bravery on the transport in the voyage across the Atlantic.

Med Harrigan's Son Wounded.

Mrs. William D. Harrigan of 44 West 20th street, Manhattan, has learned that her husband, Capt. William D. Harrigan, formerly an actor, has been wounded. "Wounded, don't worry," was the message she received from her husband, who, it is believed, was a member of the battalion under command of Major Whitley which was rescued after being surrounded for five days in the Argonne Forest. Capt. Harrigan is the son of the late Edward Harrigan.

Warship Brings Orchestra.

The Paris Conservatory Symphony Orchestra, with André Messager, its conductor, who is a noted French operatic composer, arrived at Atlantic port yesterday aboard an American cruiser. The orchestra, which will tour through sixty cities in this country under the leadership of its conductor, will give its first concert in the Metropolitan Opera House next Tuesday evening. Most of the musicians composing it are professors of music in the Paris Conservatory.
